

SHANNON HOUDE

Bio

Shannon is the founder of Walk of Life Leaders, the first international leadership development and team advisory business focused on the environmental, sustainability, social enterprise, impact investing, international development and CSR agendas.

She has mentored, coached and trained more than 700 professionals over 3000 hours including inspiring teams to reach peak performance, calibrating insights through values-driven assessments, and designing tangible tools to support professional development.

Shannon's client portfolio spans FTSE250s and Fortune 500 companies, combined with 15+ years of working with C-Suite and senior executives at Adobe, GE Capital, Barclays, Deloitte, and WWF, giving her insights across diverse sectors and leadership styles.

Walk of Life Consulting's partnership with leading US and UK agencies, Acre Resources and Weinreb Group, gives Shannon real-time market insights and extensive networks.

When not helping shape future impact leaders, Shannon enjoys hiking, skiing and swimming with her two boys, practicing yoga under a tree, and riding her road bike along country roads. And meditating and being mindful too.

FEATURED IN:

THE HUFFINGTON
POST

theguardian
sustainable business

TriplePundit
people, planet, profit

GreenBiz

Ethical CORPORATION

CSRwire®
The Corporate Social Responsibility Newswire

pulse